OCCUPATIONAL PENSION BENEFITS

Members of the Permanent Defence Force (PDF) may qualify for occupational pension and retirement gratuity (i.e. superannuation benefits) subject to certain terms and conditions. The specific defined benefit superannuation arrangements that apply to new entrant PDF personnel depend primarily on whether the person is joining the Public Service for the first time. Further details are set out below, and these should be read in conjunction with Paragraph 11 (Pay, Allowances and PRSI). The main benefits under the PDF superannuation schemes are:

- an occupational pension,
 - a retirement gratuity (lump sum) or death in service gratuity, and
 - spouses'/civil partner's and children's contributory pensions.
- (a) The new Single Public Service Pension Scheme (“Single Scheme”) applies to all military personnel joining the PDF as first-time new entrants to the Public Service on or after 1 January 2013.

This is provided for under the Public Service (Single Scheme and Other Provisions) Act 2012 (the 2012 Act). This new scheme applies to:

- Persons joining the Public Service as first-time new entrants from 1st January 2013 onwards; and
- where appropriate, former Public Servants returning to the Public Service from 1 January 2013 onwards, after a break of more than 26 weeks and not under the same contract of employment.

Retirement benefits are based on ‘career average earnings’ (not final salary). For PDF personnel, a minimum pension age of 50 applies. This means that occupational pension and gratuity (lump sum) will not normally be payable immediately on discharge/retirement unless the person serves to age 50, and has the required minimum of 2 years’ qualifying service (vesting period). Where leaving the PDF before age 50, benefits are preserved and generally payable in line with, and linked to, the social welfare State Pension age (currently 66 rising to age 68). Retirement benefits under the Single Scheme are contributory. A 7.5% employee superannuation contribution applies to PDF personnel (see Note 1 below); and occupational pension is subject to integration with the Social Insurance system.

(b) For those who are not eligible for membership of the Single Scheme the following arrangements will apply:

- (i) For personnel who join the PDF as new entrants on or after 1 April 2004 and before 1 January 2013, their arrangements are governed by the Public Service Superannuation (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2004 (the 2004 Act). Their pension scheme provides for a 'minimum pension age' of 50. This means pension and gratuity (lump sum) will not normally be payable immediately on discharge/retirement from the PDF unless the person serves to age 50, and has the required minimum of 2 years' qualifying service (vesting period). Maximum retirement benefits accrue over 30 years. Where leaving the PDF before age 50, benefits are not payable immediately but are preserved and payable from age 60. Benefits are based on total pensionable service (subject to a maximum of 30 reckonable years) and pensionable pay at discharge/retirement date. Occupational pension is subject to integration with the Social Insurance system. In the case of Commissioned Officers, a 6.5% employee superannuation contribution is payable (see Note 2 below).
- (ii) Where a person joining the PDF is not a new entrant as defined:
- under the 2012 Act (see paragraph (a) above); or
 - under the 2004 Act (see paragraph (b)(i) above), the pre-April 2004 Defence Forces superannuation arrangements will apply.

For Commissioned Officers who are new joiners to the Public Service on or after 6 April 1995 but before April 2004, and who are subject to PPC pay scales and full PRSI (Class A) a gratuity, but no pension, is payable on retirement with a minimum of 5 years' qualifying service (the vesting period). Pension and gratuity are payable after 12 years service*. There is no preservation. Benefits, which are payable immediately on retirement, and regardless of age, are based on retiring rank, service and other factors such as pensionable pay. A 6.5% employee superannuation contribution is payable (see Note 2 below); and occupational pension is subject to integration with the Social Insurance system.

*For Commissioned Officers who join prior to 6 April 1995, apart from pension contributions and integration, the same general occupational pension scheme terms apply as for post-April 1995 Officers. However, pre-6 April 1995 Officers are on non-PPC pay scales. Therefore, they do not pay 'main scheme' pension contribution towards occupational pension and gratuity, but pay a dependants' benefit contribution only (see Note 3 below). They are insured for modified PRSI (Class C) and their occupational pension is not subject to integration.

PRSI status, integration with Social Insurance system, pension contributions etc.

New entrants to the Public Service on or after 6 April 1995, including Commissioned Officers in the PDF, are insurable for full PRSI. Both employers and employees make PRSI contributions, which in turn entitle scheme members to Social Insurance benefits.

On that basis, their occupational (or spouse's / civil partner's) pensions are subject to integration with the State Social Insurance system in accordance with standard Public Service arrangements. This means that a person's entitlement to the range of Social Insurance benefits (including the State Pension Contributory) is taken into account when calculating the amount of occupational pension payable. In an integrated pension scheme, the State Pension Contributory (SPC) is regarded as part of the employee's total pension package. Under standard Public Service arrangements, this integration of occupational pension with the Social Insurance system begins from the time the occupational pension starts payment. This means the occupational pension is reduced from the start by a Social Insurance (State Pension) offset, regardless of whether the person has reached State Pension age (66-68). Integration applies to occupational pension and employee contributions, but not to gratuity.

As stated above, successful candidates from this competition will be required to pay appropriate employee pension contributions from monthly pay towards their superannuation benefits at standard Public Service rates.

Note 1 – The 7.5% Single Scheme contribution is comprised of 4.2% of net pensionable remuneration (which means pensionable remuneration less twice the maximum rate of State Pension Contributory payable from time to time to a person who has no adult or child dependants) plus 3.3% of pensionable remuneration.

Note 2 – The 6.5% contribution for 'pre-Single Scheme' members who join the Public Service from 6 April 1995 onwards is 3.5% of net pensionable remuneration (towards personal pension) plus 1.5% of pensionable remuneration (towards retirement gratuity) plus 1.5% of pensionable remuneration (towards spouses / civil partner's and children's pensions).

Note 3 – A contribution of 1.5% of pensionable remuneration is payable by pre-6 April 1995 Officers towards spouses / civil partner's and children's pensions.

Subject to certain exemption thresholds (see Note 4 below), all Public Servants who are in pensionable employment – including members of the PDF – are also liable to pay a Pension-Related Deduction (PRD) regardless of the date they join the Public Service. The PRD is separate altogether from the standard employee pension contributions mentioned above, and no additional superannuation benefits are earned as a result of the PRD. The Public Service Pay and Pension Act 2017 provides for the conversion of the PRD into a permanent Additional Superannuation Contribution (ASC) from 1 January 2019.

Note 4 – From 1 January 2017, the PRD exemption threshold is as follows:

Amount of remuneration	Rate of PRD deduction
Up to €28,750	Exempt
More than €28,750 but not over €60,000	10 per cent
Any amount over €60,000	10.5 per cent

Declarations, pension abatement, pension-accrual etc:

Under the 2012 Act, candidates will be required to declare:

- any prior Public Service, or
- any pre-existing entitlements to a Public Service retirement benefit (whether in payment or preserved), or
- existing remuneration from any other Public Service employment, or
- any such employment in which they received a payment-in-lieu of pension in respect of such service.

Candidates should be aware that if they were employed previously in the Public Service and are in receipt of a pension from the Public Service, the 2012 Act provides for the abatement (i.e. reduction / suspension) of any Public Service pension on re-employment within the Public Service, even where the new employment is in a different area of the Public Service. The outcome will depend on factors such as a person's ongoing overall earnings from the Public Service by way of salary plus pension.

In addition, the 2012 Act applies a 40-year limit on the total service that can be counted towards occupational pension where a person has been a member of more than one 'pre-2013' Public Service Pension Scheme. This may have implications for any new recruit / appointee who has already acquired occupational pension rights in a previous (i.e. non-Single Scheme) Public Service employment.
